Jake's A Good Cop - Well Trained, Polite, But Tough When Necessary

"BACK UP, MAN!" That's Jake speaking, in an unmistakable, universal language. He's demonstrating crowd control - that specially nasty job that police dogs do, when mobs of people gather for violent reasons. Not even the bravest guy can stand long, watching the snarling, snapping animal come closer. Officer Don Howard can put Jake into this tactic with only a word, and stop him just as easily.

He's got a cold nose and a furiously-wagging tail, and he may, in some ways, become a better cop than any other on the force.

That, in short, is Jake - the first canine officer ever to get assigned to a regular shift patrolling local streets and alleys.

Jake - weighing in at a muscular 85 pounds - will begin patrols soon with his handler, Officer Don Howard, on the early-night shift.

He's perfectly safe, despite a few loud barks - unless he's told to be otherwise. Howard points out that no one need have any fear of the dog; he's trained so thoroughly that only direct commands, or an attack on his handler, will result in action.

Why Tempt Fate?

Still, it's just as well not to mess with him.

Jake tolerates people; he doesn't make friends, even though he may allow someone to pat him or scratch his back. Next time you meet him, don't stick your hand into his face too fast or pound Officer Howard on the back - that might be the cue that sets Jake in motion.

And it's his motion - all the things he's trained to do - that make him so valuable to the police department. Police Chief David L. Nicoll and Officer Howard spent considerable time discussing how a dog might be used, before taking on the responsibility. They eventually accepted the gift of a dog - already named Jake - from Mrs. Beatrice Henderson of Red Spring Rd.

Long Job Involved

And since that time, Howard has spent hours on end simply teaching

SULLIVAN TO HEAD SCHOOL COMMITTEE

John S. Sullivan was elected chairman of the School Committee Tuesday night, on a 4-1 vote.

Receiving the lone ballot was Mrs. Barbara Moody.

Supt. Edward I. Erickson was elected secretary of the Board, also 4-1, with William A. Doherty receiving one vote.

Hundreds of voters are expected to attend town meeting Saturday, faced with a predicted $33 tax rate.

The session starts at 9:30 at Memorial Auditorium and will continue throughout the day. Sandwiches and coffee will be available in the cafeteria at noon.

The Finance Committee has predicted a rate of $33, if all of its recommendations are followed - an increase of $4 over the 1963 rate.

Budgets will be tackled first in the session. They are up $575,000 over those appropriated a year ago. About half the increase comes from the School Department, according to the FinCom report.

Special articles approved by the Finance Committee amount to $350,040. All of the articles will be paid from surplus cash, according to the FinCom report. However, doing so will leave a smaller

Little League Tryouts Coming

Official Little League tryouts are scheduled for the middle of this month - and baseball-happy young lads from all over town are getting warmed up for the annual period of selection.

Over 550 boys were active on teams sponsored by the League last season. This year should see an increase, with the adoption of one more team in the senior league.

President Frederick Nowell Jr. has announced the following lineup of teams for the new year: 16 minor league, eight major and six senior league teams, for a total of 30 teams.

Major league tryouts have been scheduled in the Academy cage March 14, 15, 21 and 22, with some added time, by invitation, March 28.

As plans progress for the new season, the annual finance drive is underway headed by Raymond Furey. The solicitation accounts for most of the income, while a smaller amount is added later in the season, when a tag day is held.

Health Board Vetoes Sites

The Board of Health has informed the Land Acquisition Committee that sites recommended in South Andover for school use pose serious problems for the town.

In a letter signed by Chairman Robert A. Walsh, the Board of Health urged that a sanitary survey of these and other sites be made, before they are acquired. At issue are the Barnard land and the Cottage Farm property.

The Board of Health warned, in its letter, that either of the sites might be rejected by the State Department of Public Health because septic systems might not work in the wet land.

Or, the letter, went on, the cost of filling the land might add "twice the purchase price".

THANK YOU

I thank the people of Andover for their endorsement of me at the polls on Monday's elections. Your confidence in me calls for wisdom and fortitude at times when it is not easy and some times not popular to make the right decisions.

May Almighty God grant that I shall always be blessed with that wisdom and that fortitude in my every hour of need.

Thank you again.

Sincerely

Beginning June 24 and ending Aug. 6, the six-week Summer Session is designed to serve boys and girls of high academic ability. Students who have finished grades eight through 12 are eligible. Some courses, such as beginning language courses, concentrate on the acquisition of basic skills in a conventional manner. Many courses, however, are quite unlike those offered in the regular secondary school curriculum. They provide an academic experience in depth that cannot be obtained otherwise. All the buildings, equipment, and facilities of the Academy, including the recently completed Language Laboratory and Electronic Classroom, the Arts Center, and the new Science Buildings are available. The faculty of over 60 is largely drawn from the regular Academy faculty, supplemented by men and women from other schools, and from colleges.

A student normally takes 18 course hours a week: a major course meeting two hours a day, six days a week, in a field of major interest; and a minor, 6-hour course in English Composition. In addition, a particularly

BIG 2 TOWN CO-OP

Sat. AM
MARCH 7
TUES. PM
MARCH 10

The next few days are very important to thousands of Andover citizens for two reasons.

1. This Saturday is Town Meeting — the day when, as free and responsible citizens, we have an opportunity and an obligation to show that we deserve the civic rights entrusted to us by the creators of our democratic form of government. History reminds us that we shall lose those precious rights unless we exercise them with intelligence and with discipline.

2. Next Tuesday is the Annual Meeting of a large and equally democratic private organization. Like the town of Andover, the CO-OP too depends for its success on responsible participation. This private entity is operated by the consumer in the interests of the consumer, employing democratic procedures.

In both cases, the rewards to the citizenry will be proportionate to their enlightened participation — a participation which grants to the interests of the many priority over the interests of the few.

League Approves Special Article

League President Mrs. Douglas Dunbar Jr. has announced that the League of Women Voters will accept support article 24, which calls for a $10,000 appropriation to develop and improve recreational facilities at Andover Recreation Park, formerly known as Camp Olympia. Support for the article was voted at a recent Board of Directors' meeting.

meeting as an extension of League support for the public recreation program.

Several years ago a League study underlined Andover's real need for year-round family recreation facilities. Since that time the town has acquired the former Camp Olympia and adjacent property. The League believes that this natural resource should be made available and useable to townspeople through a one-shot investment that means about 10¢ on the tax rate.

For this investment, the League explained, townspeople will receive a centrally-located access road and parking area at a bargain price, because of re-grading necessitated by the current sewer project. This new road will make available presently inaccessible land for sliding and skating in the winter, and picnic areas in the summer.

Additional benefits will include the completion of renovations to the lodge, and 80x30 building on the park property. In this connection, Mrs. Dunbar emphasized that the League's interest in the need for a teen center has been reinforced by the teenagers' enthusiasm for the project. Their energies have already been devoted to cleaning and painting this building, and raising $1,000 for further improvements. When completed, the lodge will be available for any recreation group in town and as a center for activities in the park. At present, its use is extremely limited by lack of plumbing and heating facilities.

League officials conclude that completion of the entire project will entail a minimum investment on the town's part to provide a really exceptional year-round family recreation park.

THE ANDOVER CONSUMERS CO-OPERATIVE IS HAPPY TO ANNOUNCE THAT THE YEAR 1963 WAS THE Most Successful Year In Its Quarter Century Of Operation

MORE PEOPLE

The purpose of the Andover CO-OP is to serve the basic needs of people on a cooperative or "do-it-yourself" basis. The success of the CO-OP depends on the number of people who participate both as consumers and as voters.

The acceptance of the CO-OP idea in Andover and adjoining Communities is a tribute both to the soundness of the idea and to the perspicacity of the citizenry.

At the CO-OP, people are more important than groceries because we consider people the end for which groceries are only the means.

People in ever-increasing numbers prefer to shop CO-OP. This store thrives not by selling foods, but by serving people's needs as consumers and as human beings.

MORE PATRONAGE

More people patronized the Andover CO-OP during 1963 than ever before in its twenty-five years of existence.

Although not all our members are independent shoppers (because, we are happy to say, memberships are sometimes family-wide, including all the children) all our members are consumers. Nothing pleases us more than seeing the whole family shopping at their very own store — the CO-OP.

More local families are thriving on CO-OP foods than ever before. The traffic through our store shows continual and gratifying growth. Our cash registers ring out with increasing frequency. The more cash they take in, the more we can pay out.

MORE REFUNDS

The retail food business is a highly competitive, low-markup kind of business. Success in this field goes to those who operate with business acumen and efficiency.

The rewards of efficient operation are measured by what is left over as surplus after all the bills are paid. For the year 1963, the Andover CO-OP achieved by far the greatest savings in its history.

As in other businesses, this surplus goes to the owners. But in the case of a cooperative, the surplus is distributed in proportion to the owner's patronage. In addition, shareholders get a regular 5% dividend on their stock.

At the CO-OP, it may truly be said that the more you spend, the more you save as HARD CASH.

"At this time, we cannot condone the expenditure of town funds for the acquisition of this area" the letter concluded.

The School Committee has designated the Barnard property for a new school, and the Taxpayers Association wants the town to buy the Cottage Farm land instead. The text of the letter says, in part:

"Appropos to these articles, our Board feels that it would be remiss in its duty if we failed to call your attention to our considered opinion, based on a consultation with our sanitary engineer, relative to the area that you propose that the town acquire on South Main st., known as the Barnard property; and the area off Suncrest rd., known as Cottage Farm of Andover and the D'Annolfo land adjacent to it.

"These sites are located in an unsewered part of the town and any building constructed thereon would necessarily have to have a sanitary disposal service of some septic tank and leaching field system. This would apply to a house or any building to be used for human habitation.

"Any school erected thereon regardless of the size would need the approval of the State Department of Public Health before a building permit could be issued. Because of the high water table and poor soil conditions and high percolation of the surrounding area, it is doubtful that a disposal field, adequate for a school population and approved by the State Department, could be constructed on this site without expending a large amount of money for additional fill. This could possibly add twice the purchase price to the land site before construction costs for a new school are contemplated. If the area should be completely unsuitable, it would mean a blanket refusal of acceptance by the State Department of Public Health.

"It is the feeling of the Board of Health that a sanitary survey of these and other sites should be made before they are acquired by the town. Your Board of Health will be pleased to cooperate with your Committee upon your request. However, at this time we cannot condone the expenditure of town funds for the acquisition of this area."

P.F. Group To Present Play

"Saved by the Belle" will be presented both Friday and Saturday nights at 8 in the Fellowship Hall of the West Church by members of the Senior High Pilgrim Fellowship.

The young people have been working hard on this production, under the capable leadership of Mrs. Helen Dooley. Tickets may be obtained at the door or from any member of the group. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kile are in charge of the Senior High Pilgrim Fellowship and this year they are raising the money for a Spring trip to Silver Springs, Md. Alan O'Reilly is president of the group.

Former Resident Wins Art Prize

Mrs. Tyrrell H. Poorman of East Camden, N. J., the former Dorothy Wade of Salem st., has won a national merit award for art work she submitted.

Mrs. Poorman, a 63-year-old grandmother, had no inkling of hidden talent until she began taking some art courses at home three years ago. Her winning entry was a painting of an adult camp at Lake Pleasant in New York.

A clerk with the Curtis Publishing Co. in Philadelphia until last November, Mrs. Poorman has completed a three-year correspondence course and now works on assignments of her own choosing. Her husband is also retired; the family includes a son, Wade and a married daughter, Mrs. Richard Johnson.

TOWN MEETING IS SATURDAY

than usual balance in this account. Thus the committee does not recommend using any more of these funds to reduce the tax rate. It is customary to transfer several thousand dollars each year from surplus, to reduce the rate.

Although no single article has become a great issue, many of the items are controversial and will certainly produce lively debate.

Zoning - especially the portion which places a Florence st. lot in the business zone - will create interest.

Various money articles also appear headed for discussion, including the land-taking articles. The revelation this week that the Board of Health will not approve either of the school sites appears likely to result in discussion.

It has been rumored, without substantiation, that efforts will be made to reduce the over-all budget by a percentage figure, as was done a year ago, and include salaries as well as expenses in the motion. Last year, the reduction was entirely in the expense items and did not touch departmental salaries.

Making Plans For Annual Dinner

The Alderbrook Society met at the home of Mrs. William Wolley Thursday, Feb. 27, for the regular monthly get-together.

In anticipation of the annual dinner, a committee of three was chosen to make the plans. Among those present were Mrs. Alfred Pelley, Mrs. Don Lee, Mrs. Grant Burwell, Mrs. Martin Solomon, Mrs. Arthur Sullivan, Mrs. Arthur Ness, Mrs. Mike Muise, Mrs. Philip Napoli, Mrs. William Murphy and Mrs. Albert Cignoni.

SAD FAREWELL

Mr. and Mrs. John Grecoe of Florence st. have lost their dog, "Max", who had become well-known all over the area during his 15 years of life.

Problems of old age overtook the neighborhood pet, according to Mr. Grecoe.

MOVIE SCHEDULED

Explains Boost In Police Budget

One of the major items cited by the Finance Committee, among those resulting in a sizeable budgetary increase in 1964, was police wages.

The item, listed at $21,000 in addition to the amount appropriated a year ago, was explained thusly by Town Manager Thomas E. Duff:

The across-the-board $200 increase accounts for about half the amount; the maintenance man's salary is listed under police salaries, instead of meter funds, for the first time - accounting for about one-quarter of the increase; one more officer's pay is included, and the amount needed for vacation and sick-time replacements is set at its maximum possible level.

The latter amount is that which is needed to hire off-duty men to replace officers on vacation or on sick leave, to keep the force at maximum strength.

the animal to obey simple commands. Only after obedience is certain can advanced training be started.

That's where Bill Newman, whose home is at 392 Lake st., Haverhill, came into the picture. Bill is a retired officer in the Washington, D. C. police force and an experienced dog trainer.

He's been working with Jake, and Officer Howard, regularly all winter. In addition, Howard has to toss in many more of his own spare hours each week, working on the things Newman starts. An incredible amount of patience is needed, according to Officer Howard, before the animal thoroughly understands and follows hand signals.

Must Do A Lot

Among the many necessary attributes of a police dog can be counted the ability to attack on command, to trail by vision or by scent, to search dark buildings floor by floor, to hold a suspect in place without biting (providing the suspect stays still), and to immediately attack anyone who fires a shot at his handler or attacks the officer bodily.

No Danger

But isn't this dangerous for the ordinary bystander?

Not at all, Howard, backed up by the experienced Newman, points out that a well trained police dog is safer than an ordinary pet, because he's more obedient, more responsive to commands. He's less likely to bite a child or to nip the postman, the experts assert.

Still, anyone would be out of his mind to fight the dog, or even to

YOU CAN'T BE CHICKEN - Training a police dog means getting bitten sometimes - you have to give him a good shot at the arm each time he attacks. If he grabs the hand, misses the canvass bandage around the sleeve, or even drives his teeth right through it, that's the trainer's bad luck. In this photo, trainer Bill Newman fires blanks from a gun, and Jake leaps to the attack as he sees his handler, Officer Don Howard, right, being attacked.

NO COMMAND NEEDED - Don't attack Officer Don Howard, or you'll wind up with a police dog clamped on your arm. Jake, newest addition to the force, can exert up to 9000 pounds pressure with his jaws. Here, Trainer Bill Newman, left, has just pushed Officer Howard in a simulated attack. Jake leaped to his handler's defense without any command. Photo at right shows Newman swinging the dog off his feet, but his teeth are clamped in the canvass sleeve. Dog will bite the arm first, but isn't adverse to sinking his teeth into a leg under attack conditions.

He should be tolerated, and understood, but not treated like a house pet.

Even though he is one.

When the dog is off duty, he lives with Officer and Mrs. Howard and their young children. He's protective and playful, just like most family pets. And he gets along fine with the other family pooch, a beagle.

Foot Patrol

In the months ahead, Chief Nicoll and Officer Howard foresee the dog being used mainly on foot patrol - he can be sent into empty but open buildings, or can search out thieves who may have ransacked a house or store. And at 35 mph, he's pretty good on a chase, too.

Jake also will be able to trail a lost child - much like the famed State Police bloodhounds - and will be perfectly safe in doing so.

Crowd control - the type of use so familiar in news photos from the South - will probably never really be needed here. We just don't have that kind of crowds - ready to riot and requiring instant fear.

That's just what Jake can instill too.

This reporter can testify to the demanding, craving need to back up, when the suddenly - snarling, lunging Jake moves forward, closer and closer.

Turn Him On & Off

That seems to be one of the most mysterious things of all, how this very inexperienced dog trainer - how the dog can be turned on and off -

School Board Disputes Report

The Charter Study Committee has been sharply disputed by the School Committee, which unanimously denies allegations in the charter study report. The Committee unanimously charged that the town has received "an entirely erroneous impression" of the School Board's attitude based on the charter study report and "the expressed opinion of the Andover Taxpayers' Association". Items of disagreement number two - central purchasing and the charge that the School Committee delayed planning of the secondary school construction by the methods it used in approaching the problem. Central purchasing was written off quickly - and dumped squarely into the town manager's lap in so doing.

The School Board letter stated: "... Discussions have been held over the years with the town manager to make certain that we were doing all that was required. School Committee members have been fully conscious of the charter provisions in this area and have been perfectly willing to follow any direction which the town manager, who has the responsibility, was willing to suggest". The Committee also stated that the over-all charter study might have been "more meaningful" if an opportunity had been given to members to express their views on the problem of preparing educational specifications on school construction.

During last week's meeting, Committee members individually stated that they had not been interviewed by the Charter Study Committee.

The School Board, in its opening remarks, reviewed the Sanborn School history to show that the Committee was aware of charter requirements that the manager be responsible for school construction.

Then the School Committee reviewed its conferences with architect Frank Crimp, educators in the system, methods of receiving funds for the planning activity - all for the purpose of writing better educational specifications, with a greater awareness of practicalities and costs.

According to the School Committee, the work it has done to date is entirely within its responsibilities, to determine the educational plans for the new structure.

Pre-Crusade Rally
Next Friday Eve*REV. JOHN DEBRINE

The first pre-crusade rally in the 1964 Merrimac Valley Crusade for Christ will be held at the Trinity Congregational Church, 165 Haverhill st., Lawrence, Friday evening, March 13, at 7:30.

Mr. DeBrine is well known by Christians in this area for his Saturday evening "Youthtime" rallies in Boston and Philadelphia. He is also heard weekly on radio across the country and overseas.

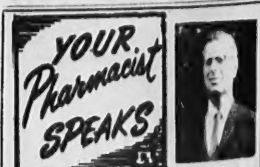

The pre-crusade rally is supported by thirty-seven churches of various denominations in the Merrimac Valley.

The 1964 Merrimac Valley Crusade for Christ will be held at the Memorial Auditorium from May 10 through the 24th. Dr. Torrey Johnson, founder of "Youth For Christ", will spearhead the Crusade. Dr. Johnson will speak here the evening of April 6.

Art Department

The theme for the afternoon, "Great Painters and a Changing World", will be presented by the following department members: Mrs. Charles Bennett, Mrs. Fay Elliott, Miss Bessie Goldsmith, Mrs. J. Keith Jones and Mrs. John Word. Mrs. Stillman serves as coordinator.

Rather puzzling to some people is the ability of stomach acids to digest a variety of heavy foods without damaging the stomach walls which are living tissue.

Actually, there are many self-regulating factors which prevent secretion of hydrochloric acid in amounts damaging to the stomach. Food itself acts as a buffer to reduce the effects of the acid, as do saliva, enzymes, peristalsis of the stomach and stomach mucus.

There is nothing puzzling, however, about where you should go for your medical needs. SHAW'S PHARMACY has a complete prescription department as well as a full line of drugs and medical supplies. Courteous and exacting service are assured at SHAW'S PHARMACY, Shaw's Square, Phone 475-2500. Free prescription delivery. THIS WEEK'S HOUSEHOLD HINT: This isn't a happy suggestion, but it could save valuable time in an emergency if people noted their blood type on auto registrations or drivers' licenses.

Golden Warrior Make First Game

By Larry Bretts

Clutch foul shooting was the key as Andover beat South Boston High 51, in a preliminary game of the Tech Tourney.

Andover, which at one time carried a 15 point lead, fought back in a second half rally by South Boston to win the game in a nail-biting finish.

With but a few minutes left in the first half, Art Yancy hit a 20-foot shot to break a 49-49 deadlock. Alan O'Reilly was fouled by a South Boston player and completed one foul shot. The Golden Warriors led 52-49. Jim Earley fouled Ed King who collected free throws to close the first half. Heading up court, Earley was fouled by Gerard Burmister of Boston but "Fuzz" was able to connect at the charity line. During the rebounding for a second throw, a jump ball resulted between Earley and Ken Lambert. Lambert tipped the ball to a teammate who promptly lost it out of bounds. "Fuzz" was fouled again by time by Pat Flaherty, but his aim now was better as he made both of the throws to increase the lead to 54-51 with 10 seconds to play.

Five seconds later, Capt. Huberson was fouled in the South Boston end of the court by Ed King. He showed one of the reasons he is the captain as he kicked both attempts, to end the scoring.

In team scoring, Art Yancy led with 14 points, followed by teammate Dave Bennett with 12.

Golden Warriors Make First Game

By Larry Bretts

Clutch foul shooting was the key to Andover's victory over South Boston High, 51-41, in a preliminary game of the Tech Tourney.

Andover, which at one time trailed 15 points, fought back in the second half rally by South Boston to win the game in a real upset.

With but a few minutes left in the game, Art Yancy hit a 20-foot shot to break a 49-49 dead-end tie. Alan O'Reilly was fouled, completed one foul shot. The final boys led 52-49. Jim Earley fouled Ed King who collected two free throws to close the gap to 50-51. Heading up court, Earley was fouled by Gerard Burm of South Boston but "Fuzz" was able to connect at the charity line. During the rebounding for the second throw, a jump ball resulted between Earley and Ken Lamberti. Lamberti tipped the ball to a teammate who promptly lost it out of bounds. "Fuzz" was fouled again, this time by Pat Flaherty, but his aim now was better as he hit both of the throws to increase the lead to 54-51 with 10 seconds to play.

Five seconds later, Capt. Hugherson was fouled in the South Boston end of the court by Ed King. He showed one of the reasons why he is the captain as he clicked through attempts, to end the scoring.

In team scoring, Art Yancy led with 14 points, followed by teammate Dave Bennett with 11.

11 and Jim "Fuzz" Earley with nine. Andover plays again next Tuesday against an opponent yet to be announced.

Decision Expected Before April 1

A decision is expected by April 1 on parking vs gravel pit, on industrial land belonging to Bernard Champy behind the Raytheon plant.

At a meeting last week, Route 495 contractors said they would not be taking additional gravel from the land until April 1.

Suggested changes in grades and areas may, or may not, be formally requested before that time.

It appeared during the discussion that the area suggested as a Raytheon parking lot is also being considered as a source of considerable gravel for the highway construction program.

Townsmen Editorial Thoughts

Defeat May Be Only Solution

Before action is taken on the land acquisition article in the town warrant, we urge that most serious consideration be given to defeating it, until such time as better, more sensible procedures are established for this function of the town government.

At this time, there is such confusion as to warrant a go-slow policy.

From observation of this part of the government, and from year-round reporting of official actions taken within the government in this regard, we believe that no other conclusion can be reached than the one stated above.

Why?

Because there are too many people in authority, while no one is specifically responsible for the proper operation of this vital town function. In the matter of schools, for example, the School Committee has been granted the right to designate sites; the Selectmen hold veto powers over the money; the Planning Board seeks to have its approval added to the others, as a requisite of action.

Yet we have, in the news columns this week, the voluntary statement of another town agency — the Board of Health — about sites listed in the town meeting warrant. Quite obviously this Board's ideas were not sought out in advance. They should have been.

Growth Is Certain

The last lingering doubt that anyone may have harbored that Andover will not grow steadily has been largely shattered.

The use of land at Rts. 93 and 133 for the Internal Revenue Center, and the announcement that the Space Lab will probably be built north of Boston, tell us in no uncertain terms that residential growth will increase, not stand still.

And as this growth comes, the town will have to pay for increased services. Taxes must inevitably go up.

The extent to which they reach for the stratosphere depends largely on wise planning by the Selectmen, and an enthusiastic approach to new industry and commerce.

For the past 10 years someone has been saying, whenever industrial growth is mentioned, "It'll come. It's only a year or so away, now".

We find it difficult to accept this theory, advanced so frequently. We believe it will take work, and hard work. The Industrial Commission is busy, of that there is no question.

But the rest of the town — citizens and officials alike — must do something about the painfully poor public image this community has in the area of industrial growth. All the private work in the world can't help, if the public utterances and performances of our officials do not support and encourage those industries we have and those which might be looking for land here.

Let's pay attention to our public image — it needs it.

We also know, from having heard most of the discussions on sites, that cost factors are not always considered.

How much extra will it cost to drain a site, or install water mains, or put in septic systems? These are costs which should be added to the over-all expense of the structure to be built on the site. Yet seldom do we hear anything about these costs, excessive though they may be, until after the land is purchased and the work must be done.

We do not believe that sufficient attention is being paid to this; it is obvious that better procedures are needed.

We would suggest that our chief policy-making Board — the Selectmen — attempt to establish a set of procedures for land acquisition that will not leave all of us in doubt as to the wisdom of selecting one site as opposed to another; which will establish some sort of cost consciousness; which will eliminate some of the extraordinary veto powers, for better efficiency and less wasted time.

When these things are done, perhaps the voters will have more confidence in this aspect of the town government.

construction for five years. The Association also feels that some money could economically be spent for renovations at the town hall, because of the expected delay in new construction. The Association also wants the School Committee to cut its $185,000 budget by about four thousand dollars to meet Finance Committee recommendations.

10 Years Ago — March, 1954

Stafford Lindsay was elected Selectman and assessor by narrow margins over William L. McDonald; Officer Roy A. Russell won in his first contest for School Committee and Roland H. Sherman became the town's moderator, at Monday's election. About 67 percent of the eligible voters responded.

The Finance Committee has approved appropriations of $1,659,200 — some $22,000 over a year ago. Most of the increase is blamed on growth of the town.

Town meeting is going to consider a new town hall, school housing, sewer extensions, and increased house lot sizes at town meeting Monday night.

C. Carleton Kimball was elected chairman of the School Committee, and William A. Doherty was re-elected secretary, at an organizational meeting Tuesday night.

Friends of Miss Barbara Santuccio, 51 Juniper rd., will be interested to know that she will be a patient at the Lawrence General Hospital for six weeks.

Story Hours

This week's story hour is entitled "The Other America." One of the stories is to be "King of the Mountains."

Next Thursday, March 12, the story hour will be "Our Useful Pets." At that time there will be two movies shown to the young people: "Roy: Sheep Dog of the Scottish Highlands" and "The Little Rooster Who Made The Sun Rise." The first one is in color, and the hills of Scotland are the setting of the story of a boy and his determination to enter his sheep-dog in the sheep-dog trials. In the second movie a little rooster discovers that his crowing does not really make the sun rise, but he finds a way to be proud of his crowing and believes that he has a real task to do each day.

ABOUT $75,000 MORE — The Cherry Sheet, shown here as prepared in the Assessor's office from original state figures, tells the story of income and expenses. Compared to a year ago, town will net about $75,000 more than a year ago.

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago — March, 1889

Six hundred and sixty-nine inhabitants of our town met at the town house to vote, besides some ladies in the galleries and boys on the floor, who are not yet qualified to vote. The number was 33 larger than at the March meeting a year ago.

The first, and only, lady voter in the town cast her ballot Monday, amid the cheers of bystanders.

As Mr. Orrin F. Spofford was driving along Pleasant st. in company with ladies, Friday evening, the wheels of his carriage locked with those of a team carelessly left standing in the road, with the result of throwing one lady, and Mr. Spofford, out of the carriage. Except for some painful bruises and a severe shaking up, there were no injuries.

50 Years Ago — March, 1914

Nathan C. Hamblin, principal at Punchard, is back at school after an absence due to a brief illness.

Cynthia Flint of Ballardvale was one of the winners in a local European Tour contest.

Rooms are being fitted up in Carter's Block, over J. H. Campion's store, where Miss Annie S. Lindsay will do manicuring, shampooing and give facial treatments.

The mothers Club invited pupils from Miss Downs' and Miss Simmons' rooms to a spelling match Tuesday and offered prizes to the three children spelling the longest. Edna Lawrence, Anna McCoubrie and Gertrude Franklin won.

25 Years Ago — March, 1939

The worst tax rate in the town's history will likely result from action taken Monday night at town meeting. The Assessors believe the rate will climb to at least $34.

Harold T. Houston was elected to his first term on the School Committee and Edward P. Hall was elected to the Board of Public Works, at a quite town election. All incumbents on the ballot were re-elected.

The Service Club is going to debate warrant articles concerning purchase of the Shaw or Grout properties, for use as a town building site. The properties are adjoining.

The Taxpayers Association is opposed to buying the Shaw or Grout properties for town hall sites — the annual pre-town meeting booklet states that there probably will not be a town hall under Story hours begin promptly 3:35 o'clock. All boys and girls are invited to attend, always on Thursday afternoons, unless indicated.

Parents should allow about an hour for each program.

Town Meeting

Saturday, March 7, there is a change in the usual library hours 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. for the adult reading room, and 10-1 and 2-4 for the Children's room. This is the day of town meeting.

Great Decisions 1964

The March 5 discussion following the Great Decisions 1964 program or taking part in a group study of this foreign policy series this week's subject is "Castro: Cuba: Challenge to the Americas?" Anyone wishing follow-up material for the Cuba discussion will find it shelved with other readings for the entire series in the main reading room.

Information in book and pamphlet form that will give insight into the problems of Indonesia will also be found there. "Indonesia: Guided or Misguided Democracy?" is the subject for next week's unit. Can the "guided democracy" last? What change could the ideological split between Moscow and Peking produce for Indonesia? Should the U.S. withhold aid for Indonesia under the present conditions? These are some of the perplexing questions that the groups may tackle. As a preparation for the coming discussion the library recommends the following books: "Indonesia and The Dutch", by Leslie H. Palmer; a survey of the course of Indonesian-Dutch relations from 1900 to the severance of diplomatic relations in 1960; "Indonesia - Guided Republic", a brief portrait of Indonesia by a scholar, William A. Hanna, well acquainted with the people and their aspirations; "Indonesia: The Crisis of the Millstones" a book by Benjamin and Jean Higgins examines resources, culture, history, politics and the outlook for economic development of Indonesia. Ask for more material if you need help.

Films

Among the films available groups are the following, for dates indicated: from now on March 13, "From Sociable Six Noisy Nine", 23 minutes; "The Stone Cutter", color, 10 minutes; "Birds In Winter", color, 10 minutes; from March 14, "Little Rooster Who Made The Sun Rise", 11 minutes; "Roy: Sheep Dog of the Scottish Highlands", color, 16 minutes; from March 19, "The Ley of The Tennessee", 30 minutes; and "Our Wildlife Heritage", color, 30 minutes; from March 23 - April 10, "Dew Line Story", color, 28 minutes; also "Adams: Photographer", 20 minutes. This last named records life and work of Ansel Adams, particularly his equipment, interests and his attitude toward art in general.

K. Allen plays "Macbeth"

Selectman Philip K. Allen directed the role of town official in the play "Macbeth" which ran this week to be "prince of the town."

Seems P. K. Jr. has just finished the demanding role of Macbeth in the Lawrence College Theatre's presentation of Shakespeare's play of that name. Mr. Allen has been out to see the presentation of the play.

Mr. Allen Jr., a native Andover, has had parts in other Lawrence Theatre productions; an accomplished folk singer, he is a staff announcer on a radio program in Wisconsin. He finds time to experiment with both the 12-string guitar and the stringed banjo — all while keeping up his studies at college. The young man hopes to continue his study of the dramatic subject, before becoming either a director or actor.

All good books are alike in that they are truer than if they had really happened and after you are finished reading one you will feel that all that happened to you and afterwards it all belongs to you; the good and the bad, the ecstasy, the remorse and sorrow, the people and the places and how the weather was. If you can get so that you can give that to people, then you are a writer.

Free Church Re-Affirms Policy

The Free Church Planning Council voted formally on "open membership" at a regular meeting of the Council and the vote was documented by signatures of the Rev. J. Allyn Bradford, pastor, and Walter Downs, moderator.

"Open Membership" refers to admission into membership all those who confess the name of Jesus without regard to race or color. Request for an acknowledgement of this policy with regard to admitting members was made by the United Church of Christ headquarters in New York City.

The denomination is seeking to determine the number of its "open membership" Churches on a nation-wide basis. Only a small minority do restrict membership and these do not hold regular standing within this denomination.

Members of the Free Church Planning Council were quick to point out that this is not only a policy of the Free Church, but that it was the very issue on which the Church was founded. Though many abolition societies existed prior to the civil war, no other group founded a Church on this issue. The name indicated the stand which was taken by the founders.

Times have changed since then and now most all Churches and religious leaders support the cause for freedom.

Col. John E. Haggerty of Ft. Knox, Kentucky, has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Haggerty of Andover st.

Town Welcomed Jim Loscutoff

Letters of greeting and good wishes from the town, and a special Jaycees plaque, were presented to "Jungle Jim" Loscutoff, during special ceremonies honoring the retiring Celtics star Sunday at Boston Garden.

Presenting the greetings were Atty. Joel R. Labell and Gerald Silverman of the Jaycees. Among the group attending the ceremonies were Jaycee members Richard Graber, Donald L. Carrine Jr. and Donald O. Ellsworth.

Loscutoff will open a day camp and basketball clinic off Jenkins rd. this spring. Mr. and Mrs. Loscutoff plan to move into their home nearby this April.

The plaque presented by the Jaycees is a physical fitness award, for a contribution to the betterment of athletics for youth. Letters of congratulations, and welcome to the community, were delivered by the Jaycees for the Selectmen, town manager and Board of Trade.

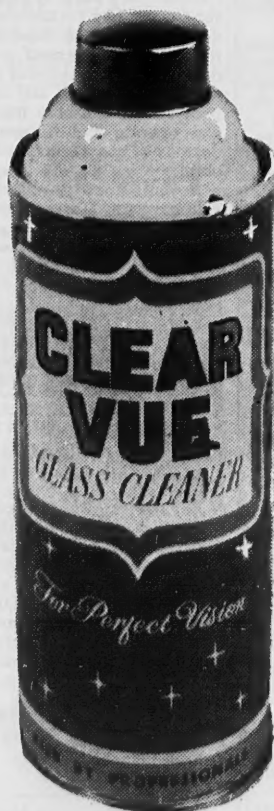

Airman 1/c Arthur Clegg and Mrs. Clegg and their son of Clovis, N. M. have been enjoying a furlough with the former's mother, Mrs. Cameron. They also visited with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Silva of Chandler rd.

Their action will add about to the tax rate, according to preliminary estimates of the Finance Committee. Although $85,000 - equivalent of 85¢ on the rate was added to recommended appropriations, the Finance Committee does not expect this to affect the rate. The funds were taken from the free cash account and in effect further reduce this fund without adding to the amount which must be raised by taxation.
